

SPECIALISED VEHICLES

With more than 50 years experience, Varley Specialised Vehicles have manufactured a variety of custom built vehicles ranging from Police, Fire and Health to Commercial and Electric Vehicles, Refurbishment, Spares and Explosive Applications.

Varley is recognised for high-level customer focus, high quality products and efficient project delivery. Varley is capable of managing both small and large volume projects, manufacturing varying products simultaneously and delivering new products from design through to full production on time.

Varley Specialised Vehicles can provide customers with a range of skills based on a variety of projects and experience in both design/development and manufacture of custom built vehicles.

Notable company's to which Varley supply to include QANTAS, Lockheed Martin, BAE Systems, Northrop Grumman, NSW Fire Brigades, QLD Fire & Rescue Service, Australian Federal Police, NSW/QLD/WA Police, Orica Mining and NSW/SA Health Departments.

Varley Specialised Vehicles have facilities in both NSW and Queensland and have the capability to produce one-off custom vehicles through to large production runs.

